sponsored by Guerbet

This Masterclass in Imaging of Gynaecological Cancers will highlight current imaging techniques, image interpretation and pitfalls in imaging ovarian, cervical, and endometrial malignancies. Workshop-style teaching with individual imaging workstations in small groups will afford participants the opportunity to learn through hands-on, case-based learning, in addition to didactic lectures.

This highly commended course is limited to 36 participants, split between two parallel work-shops running concurrently. Each 1.5 hour session will commence with a lecture followed by a stimulating, interactive, and often lively mentored case review of 8-10 cases on the workstation. At the end of the day, each participant will have reviewed 35-40 cases, each chosen with specific learning points. A comprehensive workbook is provided to guide the participants through the cases.

The faculty comprises four experts in gynaecological imaging who will each focus on a particular aspect to provide practical and relevant information on gynaecological imaging. This includes current imaging techniques, image interpretation, and pitfalls in imaging ovarian, cervical and endometrial malignancies.

The Royal College of Radiologists has awarded 6 category 1 CPD credits (external) and European accreditation (EACCME) has been applied for.
